

Adult Basic Education Instructor

Overview:

The mission of the Washington Literacy Center is to raise the literacy level of adults in Washington, D.C. so they may function on the job, in the family and in society. Our goal is to accomplish this mission by providing students with direct instruction in reading, writing and workforce so learners can enter a GED program, job-training program, or obtain or improve employment. Since 1963 the Washington Literacy Center has served over 5,000 DC adults with low literacy skills. The Washington Literacy Center was founded by DC area residents who came together out of a sheer need to support adults who needed assistance in improving their skills to increase their workforce readiness skills and to earn a GED. Consequently, it is well documented that adults with low literacy skills face multiple barriers which include barriers – completing their education, obtaining and maintain a livable wage job, and remaining out of poverty.
